Not illustrated. 1896 Excerpt: .found necessary in the first instance in order to attain an efficient control over the making, carriage, keeping, c., of all explosive substances in their great variety of forms and applications, from barrels of powder and ship-loads and stores of dynamite, ammunition, and detonators, to drawing-room fireworks, substitutes for pigeon-shooting, and toy crackers, will in due course be much simplified. There can be no doubt that the action of manufacturers and vendors themselves will importantly contribute (and has, indeed, already to some extent contributed) to such simplification, not by their raising difficulties and entertaining or conniving at attempts of evasion, but by their ready adoption of obviously wise precautions and improvements, and by the systematic exercise of care and vigilance within their individual spheres of influence. Definition of Explosive. In the Act the term explosive is defined to mean gunpowder, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gun-cotton, blasting powders, fulminate...
